EARNED INCOME TAX VOTED DOWN BY WARREN COUNCIL, SEEKS MILLAGE

Warren will ask the court to allow it three mills over the 15 mill limit for general budget purposes in an effort to support its proposal to spend $359,800 under that heading. An ordinance embodying the earned income tax was defeated on second reading, 10 to 8.

The earned income tax vote was preceded by much discussion, including comments by visitors, all but one of whom were non-residents. They represented the Pleasant PTA, Glade twp., the United Refinery union employees, Struthers Wells union men, and individuals from Glade twp. and Sheffield.

The earned income tax vote was a tie after the first reading, with Burgess Rice keeping it alive with an affirmative nod. A plea by Councilman Logan and an indication of dissatisfaction on the part of Struthers Wells employees as expressed by Anthony Bonavita, apparently turned one vote and it failed on second reading.

Councilman Logan said he was not convinced the earned income tax was necessary and that he believed it was underestimated. He said that he believed the ultimate increase by next year would amount to 40 per cent and doubted if council would reduce taxes once they were in effect.

He said the tax was an ace in the hole that might be needed later when major expenses were anticipated, and that council was not the only taxing body making demands on the taxpayer. He also suggested that Harrisburg may come up with an income tax.

He expressed doubts concerning ease of administration and uneasiness concerning the degree of confidence people would have about the records. He also warned of the friction it might cause with neighboring areas.

He proposed that millage be increased and stated that a fair examination would reveal that the property owner in Warren is not overly burdened.

Councilman Carbon reminded council that it had balanced the budget at its November meeting with a combination of taxes.

Burgess Rice pointed out that it would take four mills to replace the earned income tax, and Finance Chairman Emery tried to save his sinking tax ship with the warning that the earned income tax was inevitable eventually.

Council put its budget into balance tentatively by passing a resolution that gives the finance committee authority to request the court for a three mill increase over the allowed fifteen general fund ceiling. About a mill would be assessed for special purposes, thus taking them out of the general budget. These are $9,000 for the library, $3,000 for police pensions, and $3,600 for social security.

Warren also will need a mill and a half increase to make bond payments this year. The total millage increase will be five and a half if the court allows the general fund request.

The total budget, including general, special, and debt payments will be about $465,400. This divides up as follows: General, $359,800; Special, including lights, library, pension, and social security, $45,600, and debt reduction, $60,000.

Those are very round figures and not completely on the nose but they will do until council gets around to finally acting on the budget which the finance committee has been told to revise along those lines.

A record of the voting for the evening reveals that those favoring the earned income tax on the second reading were: Emery, Torrance, Yagge, Newmaker, Patchen, Langdon, Johnson, and Berdine. Opposed were Frantz, Logan, Merenick, Carbon, Levine, Africa, Miller, Hetem, Juliano, and Laskaris.

Those opposing the resolution to appeal for more millage were Langdon, Emery, Levine, Merenick, and Johnson.

AND OTHER BUSINESS

Council also voted to support the suspension of Paul Dresher, borough fireman, for two weeks without pay. He was accused of conduct unbecoming a fireman, including abusive language and threats directed at another fireman. The civil service commission now will consider the resolution and the fireman has ten days in which to appeal. It was reported that he already had written a letter as a counter charge, but legally such action can not be taken until after the civil service commission has received the resolution.

Council approved Irv N. Branch as police justice and a room will be found for him in the municipal building.

Councilman Miller called attention to the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania's request for a raise in rates. He suggested that council should investigate its contracts.

Councilman Carbon asked Mr. Miller if he meant filing a protest as is done by some communities. Councilman Miller said he had in mind only the checking of borough contracts with Bell.

Council passed the per capita tax on three readings. No comments were made by visiting taxpayers as this most unfair of all levies went blithely through.

SOME AREN'T THERE... Though there always is a large number of skaters enjoying the new rink on Beaty field, and at times it is packed, there are among us some who cannot benefit by this new facility. Despite the fact that they live close by and Beaty field is a handy and safe place on which to play, they lack the equipment for this kind of fun.

We are referring to the children in the Hoffman Children's Home, for whom there seems to be a lack of funds for recreational purposes. If these young people are to enjoy a childhood that in any way parallels the more fortunate, they should have the bare necessities for play. And that includes skates in any boy or girl's life.

If you have a pair you want to give these young people, the address is 444 Conewango ave. Or you might buy a pair and donate it. The last we heard, there were twenty potential skaters and four pairs of skates.

THE NEW FACE on the Pennsylvania Gas Co. office now decorates Second ave., but the company's complete remodeling job will not be finished until early spring. Ludwig Peterson of Warren is the general contractor for the project, and Beck and Tinkham of Jamestown, the architectural firm.

DIFFICULT TO SEE at the annual auto show of the 40 et 8 were the main attraction -- the cars. As you can see here, attendance was good. Every car was surrounded by peering visitors, and some of the sport models melted from sight as the visitors crawled over, through, and around them. The hoods are popped up to reveal power plants and the rear compartments are exposed to prove roominess. The show looked like a success.

THE WOMAN WHO HAS NOT MADE A WILL

Every woman should make a will. A will lists your own directions for the disposal of your own possessions. These may have taken you a lifetime to accumulate.

Do you want all to go to your parents? Your brothers or sisters? Your husband? Your children? Or divided up, and if so, how?

Better have your lawyer draw a will. Then you can be assured your assets will be distributed as you wish. And why not ask him to name as executor and trustee the Warren National Bank. Its trust department is thoroughly conversant with all details of trust management and has handled hundreds of estates for many, many years.

BROWSE CUTTING in the Farnsworth area was the project of the Warren Field and Stream and other area clubs Sunday. Over fifty persons turned out for this program to provide for the deer. Pictured here is a group of workers discussing the situation with Larry Stotz, district forest ranger, and David Titus, game warden.

ROBERT E. GEIGER

Officials of the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce have announced the appointment of Robert E. Geiger as general chairman of the Jaycee Fourth of July Celebration committee for 1956. An active member in Junior Chamber activities for several years, Geiger succeeds Jack Barr in the chairmanship post.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 2

Save Money with the Right Form

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

The government provides two forms for individual income tax returns. If you choose the wrong one, you may automatically cut yourself off from many possible tax savings.

The easiest way to file is to use the simple Form 1040A. It's a card the size of a check, which anyone can fill out if he is able to write his name and address and a few other simple facts. You just send it in with your withholding slips and the government takes care of the rest. If you owe more tax than was withheld you will get a bill for the difference. If more was withheld than you owe, you will get a refund check.

The tax rules permit you to use the card form if your gross income consisted only of wages, dividends or interest totaling less than $5,000, and if you did not have more than $100 of gross income apart from that listed on your W-2 withholding slips.

Stop, Look, Listen

Before deciding to use the card Form 1040A, you should consider these facts:

1. Your tax will be figured from a table which allows you a deduction of about 10% of your income instead of itemized deductions for contributions, taxes, interest paid, medical and dental expenses, etc.
2. There is no provision in this form for filing as the "head of a household," as a "surviving spouse," or for claiming special credits for dividends and retirement income.

If you are sure that these two points would not cost you any tax savings, and your income is within the limits for filing a Form 1040A, you might as well use this simple card form.

If you decide to use the regular Form 1040, you still have the choice of itemizing your deductions or using a standard deduction which generally amounts to about 10% of your income.

You are likely to save by itemizing your deductions if you:

1. Own real estate.
2. Had unusual medical expense.
3. Had deductible child-care expense.
4. Suffered losses from fire, storm, accident, or theft.

5. Made fairly large contributions.
6. Had certain expenses in connection with your work, as explained below.

Business Expenses

If you are in business for yourself, you can deduct your reasonable and necessary business expenses on separate Schedule C before arriving at your adjusted gross income on page one of the tax form. This still leaves you the choice of itemizing your other deductions or using the 10% standard deduction.

If you are an outside salesman, the same applies except that you should attach a list instead of separate Schedule C.

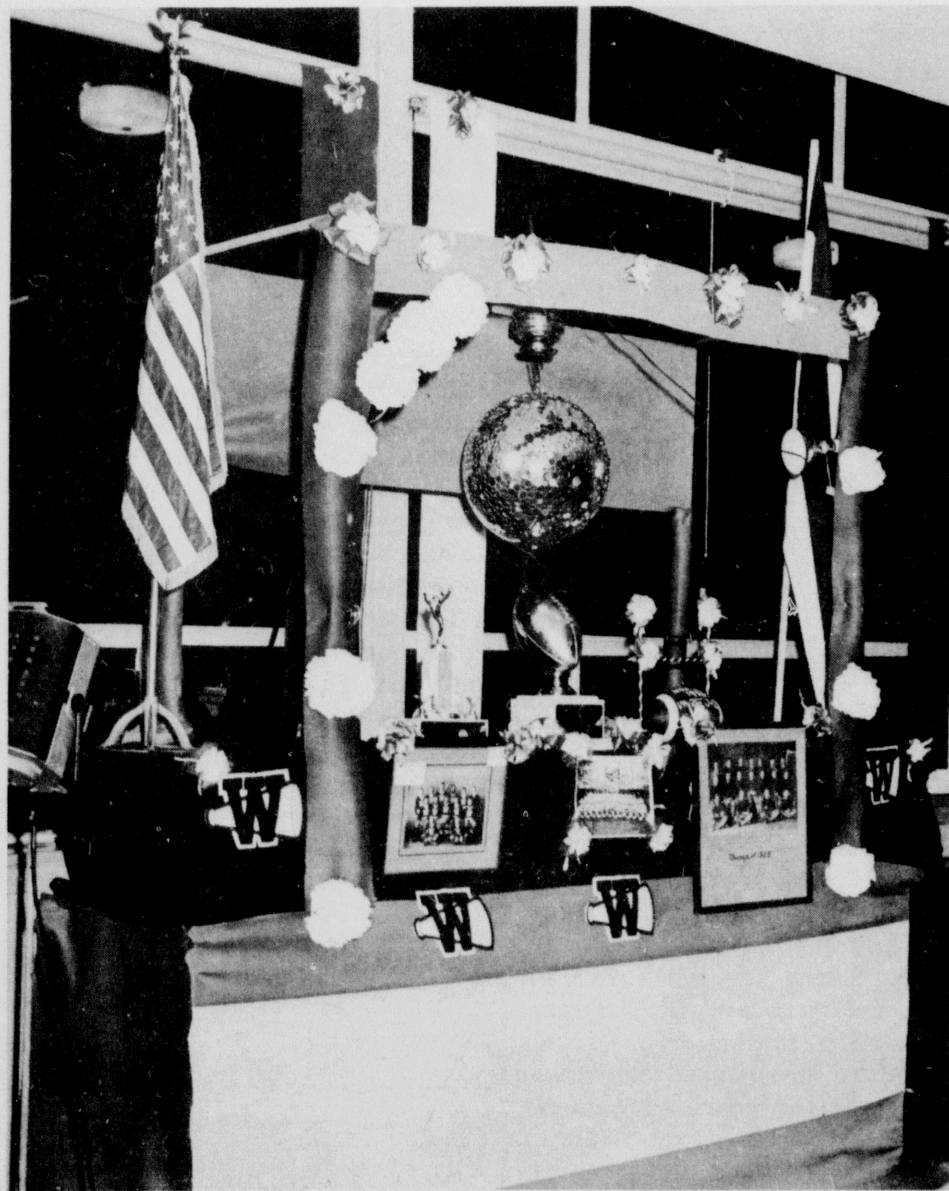

Other employees are entitled to a deduction for unreimbursed expenses in connection with their work, but expenses other than those listed below can be deducted only if all deductions are itemized instead of using the 10% standard deduction:

1. Transportation expenses in connection with your employer's business, including fares and automobile expenses. (Expenses of commuting are not deductible in any case.)
2. Meals and lodging while traveling away from home for your employer.

Form 1040 has been rearranged this year, so that although it still contains four pages a taxpayer whose income was entirely from wages needs to use only the first one or two pages. Pages 3 and 4 are for other types of income and for computing the special credits for dividends and retirement income.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

A WELCOME HAND was extended to two of the famed "Four Horsemen" of Notre Dame, who were guest speakers at the 10th annual Sports Boosters' Senior Lettermen's Banquet at Beaty cafeteria last evening. Sports Booster officers and guests pictured here are (l. to r.) Milton Dahler; Harry A. Stuhldreier, a member of the 1924 Irish team and assistant to the vice president of U. S. Steel; Bill Lundahl, president; Jim Crowley, who played with the "Four Horsemen" and is presently Pennsylvania State Boxing Commissioner; R. H. Reiber, manager of sales, U. S. Steel; and Nick Wendelboe, Jr.

A FINE DISPLAY of Warren high school trophies and pictures of great teams of the past was enjoyed by those in attendance at the annual Senior Lettermen's Banquet at Beaty school Wednesday evening. Over 250 men and women attended the event.

In Brief

INTERESTING STATISTICS on Warren General Hospital for 1955 were received by the hospital board of directors at its January meeting. The report, prepared by Hospital Administrator Dorothy Meldorf, indicates the hospital now has 155 full time employees and 44 part time workers compared to a total number one year ago of 167. In 1955 there were 4663 adult admissions and 727 births for a total of 36,776 patient days.

At the monthly session the board approved a bid submitted by Clair Byer for improvements to the interior of the Nurses Home. The directors authorized the building and grounds committee to draw up specifications for and to seek bids on the construction of centralized equipment storage, workshop, central maintenance station and present bids and recommendations at the next meeting.

The directors also accepted a new Blue Cross-Hospital agreement.

A MISSING HUNTER, who gave himself up recently in Redding, Calif., has been returned to Erie and arraigned on a non-support charge. The man, Joseph Paris of R. D. 5, Erie, disappeared while hunting in this area December 1 of last year. He was first discovered by California authorities when he attempted to enlist in the Armed Forces.

A WARREN COUNTY motorist escaped injury early Saturday morning when his car went off the highway about seven miles north of Warren on Route 59 and caused $600 in damage. Driver of the vehicle was Richard Yeskey, of R. D. 2, Russell.

A CAR-TRUCK COLLISION occurred at 10:30 p. m. Sunday on Route 6 at Irvine, injuring a Warren couple. Treated by a Youngsville doctor as a result of the near head-on crash with a truck operated by Walter Schaffer, of Wycombe, were Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Neilly, of 209 Market st.

ANNOUNCEMENT was made this week of the appointment of Elbert W. Nine, of the Pennsylvania Electric Co., as chairman of the 1956 Heart Fund campaign that starts February 1. The Warren County Heart Association is an affiliate of the American Heart Association and is sponsored by the Warren Lions Club.

DIVORCE COURT was held at the Warren County Court House Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. The following cases were granted: Richard A. Wilson from Priscilla B. Wilson, Carl V. Hornstrom from Donna M. Hornstrom, Doris Bacon from James Bacon, Elwood G. Knopf from Mary Louise Knopf, Betty L. Anderson from Robert Carl Anderson, Edith E. Adams from Raymond F. Adams, Alice L. Fisher from Ralph H. Fisher, Mary L. Duke from Harry A. Duke, and Robert E. Giese from Charlotte R. Geise.

AN INVESTIGATION is currently being conducted by the Warren County Emergency Radio Association to secure an emergency power generator for its control center. The group is also making an endeavor to add a vehicle to its equipment, in which a complete station could be permanently installed to be dispatched to the scene of an emergency.

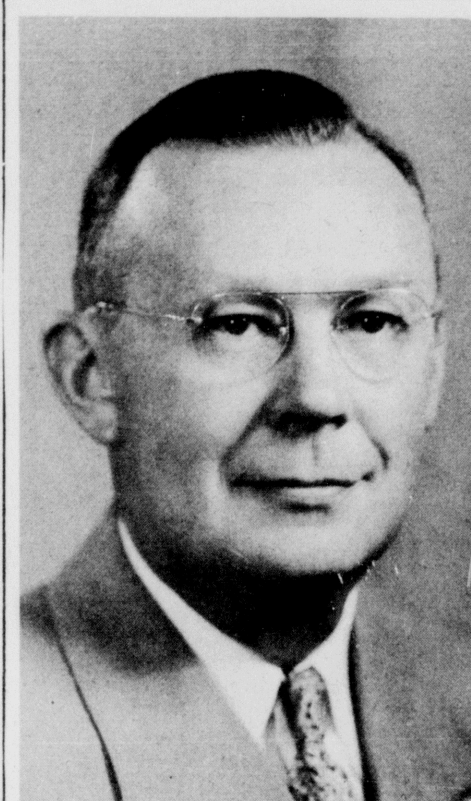

Members of the association met at the Court House Annex last Saturday and elected Ad Scholes, president; Mrs. Richard Schell, secretary-treasurer; and Glen Nelson, retiring president, a director.

At the meeting Mr. Nelson presented the group with a complete semi-portable station of his own design.

GRAND JURORS drawn for Quarter Session Court at the Warren County Court House on February 6 are: Elizabeth Donna Graham, Bertha H. Kamen, Wilbur E. Slack and James Stearns, Warren Borough; Isabelle V. Dunn and William J. McGraw, Tidioute Borough; Loraine T. Anundson, Sheffield township; Mary Campbell, Clarendon Borough; Ralph W. Horner, Youngsville Borough; George L. Pepke and Benjamin C. White, Conewango township.

ELECTED VICE PRESIDENT of the Warren, McKean and Elk Counties Funeral Directors Association last week was Allen Vermilyea, of the Lutz-VerMilyea Funeral Home in Warren. Gordon Healy, of Bradford, is president.

THE 1955 FUND CAMPAIGN for building up the Permanent Endowment Fund of the Warren County Probation Association has reached nearly $3900. This was reported at the Rotary Club meeting Monday, by Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., youth committee chairman.

Judge Flick also reported to the Rotarians on his recent attendance at the Pennsylvania Council of Juvenile Court Judges and told of the favorable comments received there by the Warren County project.

While the 1955 campaign is still short of its $5000 goal, it is hoped that additional gifts will be received from citizens of the county to put the drive over the top.

ANOTHER RADIO station for Warren is the thought attributed to local capital. It is reported that outside advice is being sought.

PSYCHIATRY AND THE COURTS will be the Mental Health and You program's subject over WNAE Sunday, at 12:45. Judge Herbert A. Mook, of Crawford county, prime mover in the establishment of the Crawford county mental health clinic, will be interviewed. The Crawford clinic is an outpatient clinic affiliated with the Warren State hospital. The Hospital will be represented by Dr. Jack Wolford on this program.

A SEVEN-DAY ACCIDENT free period in Warren Borough was broken at 8:20 p.m. Wednesday evening when Jan J. Zurcher, R.D. 1, Warren, lost control of his car and struck a parked vehicle in the 900 block of Fourth ave. $350 damage was caused to the driver's auto and $50 to the parked car owned by Evelyn and Merle Greenwalt, 127 Jackson st., North Warren. Police arrested Zurcher for driving too fast for conditions.

New, Special Features Set for Ch. 4

THERE'S always an air of excitement, especially during the winter season, in the ever-expanding channels of television. WBEN-TV and the CBS Network progressively move forward in 1956, offering new and better fare for viewers.

A special Edward R. Murrow-Fred W. Friendly "See It Now" production has been scheduled for Thursday, Jan. 26, from 10 to 11 PM. The nation's big economic headache and one of the most significant issues of this election year—the plight of the American farmer—will be the subject, "The Farm Problem: A Crisis of Abundance."

"You Asked for It," all-request program featuring Art Baker as emcee, debuts on WBEN-TV Sunday afternoon, Jan. 29, at 2:30 o'clock. Viewers' requests to see oddities are answered with such fascinating feats as a 10-year-old girl dancing on the wing of an airplane flying at 3000 feet, a bull in a china shop or a cat playing ping-pong, etc.

On Monday night, Jan. 30, at 9:30 o'clock WBEN-TV will televise a dress-rehearsal of the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Josef Krips, direct from Kleinhans Music Hall.

A television milestone for a local station: WBEN-TV's Meet the Millers is now televised in full color every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Both these days in their five-a-week series are devoted to cooking.

MATTRESS*NOW $39<sup>75</sup>*BUYERS'
CORNER*THE AUTO SHOW

You couldn't see the cars because of the people. That was our impression of the Warren auto show, held Friday and Saturday in Beaty cafeteria. A cartoonist would have had a day. There were more visitors under some of the hoods than there was horsepower.

Imagine a car with its hood up, the rear compartment lid lifted, and legs protruding out of both, plus a ring of people on each side, and you have the car lines as seen by him who did not crowd in close.

As usual the convertibles caught the eyes. Especially that Packard job. And the ladies got a flower if they walked around the dreamboat. But the price was a dream, also. One of those out of this world dreams for the average guy. But such are not for the average guy. They just catch his attention at auto shows.

Though we are not a motor authority there was one easy way for the poor man to pick out his car. He needed only to look at the contrast between motor arrangements. Some obviously are so complicated that it would cost a small fortune to make a simple repair. More stuff would have to come out before the source of the trouble were reached than you could have found under the entire hood a few years ago.

And you pay for those minutes. You also pay for the time spent to put them back in. You also found relatively simple motors, where the spark plug sat within easy reaching distance, and you actually could see the motor proper. That's for the small pocketbook. You're kidding yourself if you do otherwise.

We went away wondering when safety features were going to be treated like something other than a luxury. They continue to add power as standard equipment. But if you want a gadget to save your life you pay extra.

We saw some beautiful colors, a few attractive lines, and one dealer with the courage to post his complete prices on the wall near his models. But we returned to our 1955 model convertible and drove home in complete contentment. They didn't show us anything better.

The size of a television set's picture tube must be advertised in such a way that there is no deception. Efforts by the Radio-Electronics - Television Manufacturers Association to amend or delay trade practice rules which became effective in December have been denied by the FTC.

A television ad today must mean the horizontal length of the picture if it does not explain the figure as being otherwise. For example, if the ad says the store is selling a 21-inch set, and there is no explanation of what it means by 21 inches, the picture must measure 21 inches from left to right.

If the advertiser means the inches are to be measured diagonally, from corner to opposite corner, it must qualify its 21-inch statement with an explanation. For example, it should say something like, "21-inch diagonal picture." Or, "21-inch set, measured diagonally."

Disclosure also must be made as to the used character of picture tube envelopes or bulbs.

CHARGES DISMISSED

The FTC charges against Armour and Co. for advertising which suggested that Cloverbloom 99 margarine is a dairy product have been dismissed. The FTC examiner ruled that the FTC did not have jurisdiction. He said the meat packers are under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of Agriculture as defined in the Packers and Stockyards act.

FAVORING THE BIGGIES

A Congressional committee is investigating the possibility that the Federal Trade Commission is giving much attention to such violators as small time bait advertisers and is allowing major industries to get away with obvious violations and to greatly expand monopolistic practices. The committee claims the FTC has been shying away from tough cases and using up its energy on deceptive advertising practices.

It lists as "tough" such problems as anti-trust law enforcement and such promotions as products containing chlorophyll.

CLEAN THOSE TEETH

Despite all the advertising about such additives as the above mentioned chlorophyll, the best way to keep your teeth in order is to clean them after you eat, balance your diet, and see your dentist. We say this despite, and maybe because, a major company is about to spring an advertising campaign concerning a tooth cleaner which will supposedly contain properties that will kill those cavity-making germs in mouths of all ages. Fluorine will be involved in this one.

Unless yours is a very unusual case, requiring special attention and medical advice, you can guard against decay by keeping your teeth clean. This means removing the acids and particles left by the food you eat as soon as possible after eating.

There are three major steps to take. Brush away from the gums, getting the particles out by downward or upward sweeps. Clean out the stubborn ones with floss, also used outwardly and not violently against the gums. The gums will recede fast enough without pushing them back with brush and floss. In fact it is good to massage the gums toward the teeth with your fingers.

Possibly the major step that most are the least particular about is the rinsing. Several glasses of warm water washed through the mouth will dissolve most of the sugar and acids left in small particles that you may not dislodge. And even if you remove all particles, the juices remain. Get them out.

Then see your dentist often. He will clean out the areas which are becoming catch-alls, and will close up those cavities when they are small. They grow mighty fast when unprotected.

PAGING GRANDMA

The common cold costs America millions in time lost and medicines every year, and the nearer we come to licking it the nearer we get to grandmother. The antihistamine was built up as a major bulwark against colds but the sniffles and sore tonsils kept right on coming. Now we have a better one, and people for some reason have heard little about it.

It is made up of extracts taken from the rines of lemons, oranges, and grapefruit. The various drug companies have pet trade names for it, but it is commonly known as a bioflavonoid. It is not a cure but it does much to prevent and is supposed to greatly reduce the life of a cold.

Now if they will take something out of camphor and lard, make up a hot lemon drink, and toss in a few aspirins we won't be far from the little old lady who once made us well in a day or two when the cold bugs attacked.

New England TVA

By Thomas L. Stokes

WASHINGTON. -- Somewhat of a legislative miracle has come about in Congress, when you know all the circumstances. But it was done in such a routine fashion that it was easy to overlook its significance -- and it has national significance for our water resource development. Even though the Passamaquoddy project, which is what is involved, directly affects only Maine and neighboring New England and Canada. What happened is that the House approved a resolution already adopted last session by the Senate authorizing a $3 million appropriation for a survey of the economic feasibility of the Passamaquoddy project. This, you may remember, is designed to generate electricity -- and scads of kilowatts of it -- through harnessing the powerful tides of the Bay of Fundy. That will be done by tying together a chain of islands in Passamaquoddy Bay, partly in Maine and partly in Canada, and itself an estuary of the Bay of Fundy.

There are two very interesting things about this enterprise.

For one thing, many will recall that some 20 years ago, back in the Roosevelt New Deal, Passamaquoddy as a term to describe the tide-harnessing project got to be almost a curse word, and certainly one of derision. The kindest name for it was "boondoggle," which in that era meant a wasteful, foolish notion of "long-haired bureaucrats."

For another thing, revival of this project, which now is supported by all New England members of Congress, may open the eyes of that section which hitherto has been skeptical about integrated, multi-purpose development of its rivers. This may prod New England into doing something about developing them to produce electricity and to prevent floods and, as for the latter, the recent devastation should demonstrate the need. Beyond that, it may make New England tolerant of, and sympathetic to, similar development elsewhere.

In the last few years, it may be recalled, there has been much opposition from New England members of Congress to Federal appropriations for multi-purpose development of our river resources, particularly TVA in the South. As to TVA, New Englanders have complained that cheap TVA electricity is one of the factors chiefly responsible for luring New England industry South, and they claim that TVA is a Federally "subsidized" enterprise.

Southern members of Congress are very conscious of this New England attitude. So, during debate on the Passamaquoddy survey proposal, two Southerners made a particular point of giving their support to the New England hydroelectric project. New Englanders could not miss this adroit gesture by the two Southerners who, without mentioning TVA, stressed that industrial development of New England helps the South and other parts of the country as development of the South helps the rest of the country, including New England.

"The people of my area," said Rep. Brooks Hays (D., Ark.), "have a stake in development of the resources of New England, and we are interested in it."

More specific and pointed was Rep. Joe Evins (R., Tenn.), one of TVA's staunch champions, who declared to the House:

"I, coming from Tennessee and the Southern area, am not opposed to seeing all sections of our common country grow and advance. There has always been too much sectionalism, it seems to me, when these matters about public power arise in the House."

Explaining how he has supported the Great Lakes - St. Lawrence

Waterway, also a joint enterprise of the U. S. and Canada, and also "a great number of public works in the Western part of our nation," he added:

"But when other projects come along, there seems to be a tendency of some to oppose, on the ground of sectionalism."

The New Englanders got his point. Perhaps the once much-abused Passamaquoddy will become a bridge of understanding between them and the South.

Its engineering feasibility long has been accepted. During debate in the House the pioneer of Passamaquoddy was recalled, the late great engineer, Dexter Cooper, who drew the first plans for it and proposed development as a strictly American project though originally it had been international in conception. Work was begun during the Roosevelt Administration, but later was abandoned. Maine members of Congress held to their faith in it.

Significant in the chorus of support for the new survey was the voice of the GOP House leader, Rep. Joseph W. Martin (Mass.), whom no one could accuse of being a "boondoggler" and get away with it.

With the engineering feasibility already proved, the survey is to ascertain whether power can be produced economically enough to justify the project. The resolution for the survey, which will be done by the International Joint Commission, takes no position as to whether development would be by Federal government, state, private enterprise, or a combination. That would be up to Congress later if the project is found actually grew lyrical in describing the vast project and in their forecasts of what it would mean to their state and the neighboring New England and Canadian region.

POSTAL INCREASE

The cost of using the mails, including the price of your favorite newspapers and magazines, may zoom a bit if the President's budget message is used as a guide and the postal deficit is eliminated. The message said that legislation is being proposed that will increase postal revenues $350 million. And legislation also is being readied to terminate free or reduced rates for some groups.

Anyway you look at this it adds up to another effort to obtain $350 million more from you. And you will pay it, either through more postage on your mail or higher costs for anything which comes to you in that manner.

The post office deficit in 1955 was $362 million, but it will jump to $440 and $470 for 1956 and 1957, due to pay increases. They still will be short about a hundred million.

Postmaster General Summerfield is quoted as saying that the cost of mailing newspapers and magazines would be boosted more than 400 per cent. This might add up to about fifty cents a year more for your small weekly paper subscription price and could be $2.50 to $4.00 a year more for your daily.

BLADES WANTED

We could use about ten pairs of blades for young feet that would enjoy the same privilege as their friends. The skating on Beaty field is free. And it is well used by large numbers of skaters. But there are some who lack the facilities even when the ice is good and the gate is open.

You can bring them to the Observer office or take them to the Hoffman Children's Home, 444 Conewango ave.

NEW FORD AGENCY

Two Jamestown men are expected to be selling Fords in Warren soon. Their agency may be on Pennsylvania ave. in the vicinity of Laurel.

VOLKSWAGON INVADES

Location of the American plant for the manufacture of the fast selling Volkswagon, about which there has been much contemplation, will be in New Jersey. The little car is selling in Europe like low priced cars sell in this country, and the profits prove a knowledge of mass production.

who is currently serving in the U. S. Air Force.

CLOSE ONE

The earned income tax came very close to passing at Warren's council meeting Monday night. Some councilmen who had gone to the meeting with the intention of voting against it were tempted to reverse themselves and support it.

The unfounded arguments presented by visitors who offered no substitute, and the fact that all but one of the visitors were non-residents, almost convinced some councilmen that they should support the ordinance. And they really were driven toward it when one civic-minded orator, now a non-resident, blandly admitted that he and his wife had escaped taxes for six years while they lived in Warren. The fact that this man now was asking relief from taxes which make his Warren job possible was almost too much.

But anger was fought down, reason was maintained, and a majority voted against it.

HELP NEEDED

Council needed help Monday night. Perhaps it could have been found at the start of the meeting when the usual invocation was lacking.

Health Of President Major Campaign Issue

By Doris Flesoon

WASHINGTON. -- President Eisenhower has opened the door to a far more candid discussion of his health than either friend or foe has so far ventured. He put it on the record that:

"It is idle to pretend that my health can be wholly restored to the excellent state in which the doctors believed it to be in mid-September.

"My future life must be carefully regulated to avoid excessive fatigue. My reasons for obedience to the medical authorities are not solely personal; I must obey them out of respect for the responsibilities I carry."

With these words Eisenhower has acknowledged that his health is a legitimate political issue because it bears upon his ability to do his job. He has said that his own health is not what it was.

The President added that "my doctors report to me that the progress I am making toward a reasonable level of strength is normal and satisfactory." His appearance bore it out for he looked hale and smiled easily. At the same time he looks older which is natural in a man of 65 who has had the shock of illness and then has been kept on a low calorie diet.

It is a fact, too, that Presidents do look older from year to year. The major reason why appeared in the questions which the reporters addressed to President Eisenhower. Every one dealt with an important problem about which there is worry and controversy. The issues involved are freighted with emotion as well as politics. They refer to people, their well-being, their happiness, even their life and death, never to inanimate objects.

They were, in short, about the kind of matters which no conscientious person takes lightly and which every heart patient is urged to avoid.

The President is, of course, the best authority on how he himself feels. It is a subject most men and women give thought to, with or without heart attacks, as they grow older.

What he has said about it will enter the campaign, should he run, on the best authority -- himself -- and they would be hard statements for the GOP campaign orators to get around.

In other respects the President's press conference was very much the same mixture as before.

He talks with reporters about their questions but he does not answer the questions. What he says, always with great sincerity, is unexceptionable and almost unarguable. The art of evading the direct question has never been practiced with greater skill and its perfection almost stifles complaint.

Reporters feel frustrated but the technique of news reporting dictates that they shall repeat what the President said. It is very readable and what he did not say or do must be played up elsewhere and lags behind the front pages.

For example: Secretary of State Dulles said in his Life interview that the President had made up his mind to use atomic weapons if the Chinese Reds attacked Quemoy and Matsu as a prelude to Formosa. It is hard to imagine a more important statement of national policy.

The President's answer: He had ever known, devoted to peace, etc., not read the article but Dulles was etc., etc. The headlines: "President the best Secretary of State he had Calls Dulles Best Secretary Ever."

HOW THEY FEEL BEHIND
THE IRON CURTAIN

No one has ever satisfactorily succeeded in measuring the reaction of an audience to a program or, for that matter, even in measuring the size of the audience. An infinitely more complex job is that of measuring the results of radio programs beamed to the other side of the Iron Curtain -- to Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Rumania and Bulgaria. Still, the job is done and done pretty well.

Chief of the audience research section of Radio Free Europe is Robert C. Sorensen who finds out how many of RFE's programs are getting through and what they are accomplishing through three sources -- refugees, travelers and sailors who have been in the target countries; newspapers, magazines and radio broadcasts from behind the curtain; and letters from listeners.

Interviews with refugees and travelers take place all along the periphery of the Iron Curtain in Munich, Stockholm, Hamburg, Frankfurt, Vienna, Rome, Athens, Istanbul. Some of them take as long as ten hours. The hardest part is getting the interviewee to stop telling what he thinks the interviewer wants to hear and tell what he really knows. If RFE is hammering away at Soviet agricultural policies, for instance, it wants to know what the people really think about those policies. RFE also wants to know what the people want to be informed about, it being difficult on this enlightened side of the curtain to tell precisely where the areas of ignorance are.

Soviet broadcasts and press reveal a lot about RFE's effectiveness. It has been attacked by Soviet press or radio more than 1,800 times in the last nineteen months, more than any other foreign radio group including Voice of America. For angry reaction, President Eisenhower's Christmas greetings probably set some kind of record. The broadcast was attacked by Krushchev himself and his remarks were repeated in thirty-four different attacks by the Soviet-controlled radio and press in satellite countries.

Letters indicate that the favorite type of program is news, especially news about western thinking. Listeners like to hear comparisons between western salaries and their own. They like comedy with a political slant, the sort of thing that shoots barbs in the Communist way of life. They like music, particularly that of composers barred for political views. (There is less and less of that. Soviet-controlled radio even permits jazz, which was once thought to be barbarous.)

Most dramatic example of RFE's effectiveness took place in January last year when there was a major shake-up of the Polish secret police, including the removal of the Minister of Security and the arrest of three of his top officials. This followed three months of broadcasting by Joseph Swiatlo, formerly of the Polish secret police, who revealed over RFE all the corruption and intrigue within the organization.

Said the British magazine "Time & Tide": "The immediate cause of Radkiewicz's (Minister of Security) downfall was, in fact, a series of broadcasts beamed into Poland by Radio Free Europe. Secrets which had been known to three or four persons were broadcast to millions. It was perhaps the greatest single victory ever to be recorded by broadcasting to the Iron Curtain countries."

RFE has ways of measuring audiences at least as good as Neilson in this country. In the five countries they broadcast to there are 5,000,000 radio sets that can receive the programs and it is known that three to five people are generally clustered around each set. Moreover, listening is not -- as in this country -- casual; because it is illicit, people listen with intense concentration so as not to miss anything.

Now that the Kremlin is making an effort to be friendly with the United States, attacks on our government have decreased. But attacks on Radio Free Europe have greatly increased. Last October in Geneva, Molotov claimed that the people from the five satellite countries who have escaped to the west and gone to work for RFE are "the scum of society thrown out of the people's democracies." That was, the RFE people feel, about the most flattering thing Molotov could have said. To deserve an epithet like that, RFE must be hitting where it hurts. (C) 1956, N. Y. Herald Tribune, Inc.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 1 How to Save on Your Income Tax

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

The eve of April 16 will see a mad scramble in many households to put together the necessary facts and figures for the federal income tax returns due on that date. (April 15 falls on a Sunday this year, making April 16 the deadline.)

The last minute rush produces not only long lines at Internal Revenue Service offices, but also many careless mistakes by taxpayers.

Most of the errors are very simple. For example, about one million returns are filed every year with signatures missing. (This includes joint returns with only one signature and individual returns with no signature at all.)

Little slips in arithmetic last year resulted in overpayments by taxpayers of $18,000,000. Taxpayers got back these overpayments eventually, after the government discovered the mistakes, but the taxpayer cannot rely on the government to save him from all his errors.

The mistakes of arithmetic favoring the taxpayer were even larger—perhaps not entirely by coincidence. All returns are checked, and when an underpayment is discovered the government not only collects the difference, but also charges interest.

Opportunities Overlooked

Apart from obvious mistakes, many taxpayers overlook opportunities to claim exemptions and deductions, and other ways to reduce their tax.

In order to help you avoid such pitfalls, this newspaper is publishing a series of articles prepared with the help of the national and state organizations of certified public accountants. These articles — if you save them and use them along with the official instructions that come with your tax forms — may save you money.

Your first step is to consider whether you should file at all, and then what kind of a return to file. For income tax purposes you are not required to file a return if your gross income in 1955 was less than $600, or if you are 65 or older and had less than $1,200 gross income. But if you had income from self-employment of $400 or more, the return must be filed for social security tax purposes.

Don't forget that tax on salary or wages may have been withheld during the year by your employer, even if your income was less than $600, and the only way to get it back is to file a tax return.

Advantage of Joint Returns

A common mistake is the filing of a separate return by a wife who had a small income. If the wife files a separate return, she is not permitted to file another return jointly with her husband, nor is her husband allowed to claim an exemption for the wife on his separate return.

Most married couples will save money by filing a joint return, as this "splits" their income to put them in the same bracket as though each of them had received half the total income.

There are unusual cases, however, such as those involving capital losses, in which separate returns might result in a saving. If this is a possibility, it is best to figure both jointly and separately before deciding which way to file.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

Observations

By Bob Walsh

FREE ENTERPRISE, what extremes are practiced and defended behind the protection of those bold words. In these days of ideological and practical competition between economic methods of existence, the cloak of patriotism is loosely worn in many cases.

The spirit of adventure that has pervaded American life, causing the early settlers to come here, inspiring later ones to brace the frontier, and evident even in those today who pick up their belongings and leave their native land for our shores, is typified in the freedom of enterprise theme.

We want it this way because we find in it a constant hope of success. We prefer to take our chances on making good rather than being classified from birth as a cog in a machine which will tell us where we fit. There may be much merit in the machine idea, which places each where he is best fitted and where he can best serve the nation, but it doesn't appeal to us.

There may come a day when our educational facilities are so adequate that we will learn early in life what we can expect to do best. That we work for today, even though most schools are lacking in the personnel required to reach such decisions. However, even if such advice were available and fully respected we still would want freedom of choice. It is our nature. ***

But freedom of enterprise will require much doing if it is to succeed. There must be controls. Without them the freedom will disappear. Yet those who do the controlling must do so under the watchful eye of an alert and informed public, which expresses itself through free elections. So democracy works.

Many of those who talk the loudest about free enterprise are doing everything possible to terminate it. This can be found in bigness, big business, big government, big labor, big coops. One leads to another. One makes the other necessary. They are relative and dangerous. ***

Much of the current pulling and pushing you see on the national, state, and local levels is due to the efforts of a few to gain control of much, and to fatten their take from the national income. Such action is the biggest threat we have to free enterprise.

Communism we can see. We can recognize it for what it is. But the quiet political maneuvers that give special favors to those attempting to get around anti-trust laws and those who argue that monopoly is the best means of production are our major dangers to free enterprise. The hopes of the individual are becoming controlled by competition with big production, the control of markets by a few, the dictates of labor bosses, and an expanding government. Some would say this is one step away from fascism.

We do not have big business in Warren county. Most of our plants are on a far lower plan than the giants of industry. The closest is Sylvania, which is a part of a major corporation. But it competes with giants, such as General Electric and Westinghouse. Only when such big corporations team up, do we find a kind of monopoly that gets around the laws while making a show of free enterprise.

All of our plants are in very competitive fields, whether they sell machinery, gasoline, furniture, or plastics. They are big enough to be successful examples of what we believe is free enterprise. It is when such as these join forces with similar plants to control a market that the individual is locked out of his opportunity to independently succeed under our system.

And so we must have controls to avoid this action. These controls must be fair and they must be enforced by officials chosen by the democratic process. Unfortunately, most of us either do not vote, or we simply pull the lever. We are not informed, and too many of us are led to the polls by ward heelers. ***

Some bigness we must have. Properly controlled, many services are best done if there is no competition. Such benefits as electricity, heat, water, and communications are encouraged under our system to become large. We call them public utilities, and the chosen ones are given a franchise to provide us with the service we want.

This franchise requires the utility to provide its service in an adequate manner and at a fair profit. To determine the manner and to control the price we appoint public officials to represent us. This we call the public utility commission.

A corporation which is providing a service must go before the public utility commission if it wants a change in its franchise. The commission must study the request and decide if it is a fair one. Will it protect the public from gouging and will the service be improved?

It is also the duty of local groups to inform themselves concerning such requests and to present the local opinion, which many times may be in opposition to such requests. And it is the duty of the press to make public such information.

A major part of free enterprise is a free press. The press which lacks the courage to face up to any subject, or which makes itself a part of some group, thus presenting a slanted version in news and commentary columns, is not fulfilling its obligations. ***

The nation now is faced with the effort to remove controls from the price of gas at the source. Gas used as a heat and distributed by corporations who have been given public utility franchises obviously is a part of the utility. Its price cannot be controlled if there is one weak link along the chain from ground to stove.

If we are agreed that we must control the price of distributing electricity, gas, or a public utility product or service...if we are agreed that we must control the price of transporting such products or services...if we are confident that we can do this fairly, so that those in the business receive a fair profit...why are we now so anxious to remove controls from the source?

If the prices, as some say, will go down if controls are removed, why are they worried about ceilings? Why should any part of our utility services enjoy benefits which do not obtain with other portions?

Free enterprise is endangered in the gas industry. Though there are about 4,000 engaged in this field, less than two hundred control the bulk of the production. This obviously is heading for monopoly. ***

To repeat, under the free enterprise system all of us have the opportunity to choose our own line of work or to go into business. To assure this we have laws which prevent monopolies that exclude the small business man from selling his product. This is a continuing fight and not wholly successful, but it is our goal, and we have commissions that are supposed to do the job.

However, we do make exceptions to assure the best of services of some kinds. And in these cases we exercise complete control over the costs. It must be either this way or we must take over the utilities and operate them as we do the post office.

There can be no exceptions. Either a business is a part of a wholly free enterprise portion of our economy and can price itself out of existence if it chooses, or it is a utility, which to justify its continuance as a private business must let us, the people, determine its costs and prices.

Gas as a fuel is a utility. A law that says otherwise is part of an effort to defeat freedom of enterprise. And so the battle joins as the politicians weigh the heavy contributors against the voice of the people. The people, if they want to assure continued freedom, must speak.

WRESTLERS WIN EASILY

Four Warren high wrestlers kept their season records clean as Coach Homer Barr's squad outgrappled Franklin, 36-6, on the Knights' mats Thursday night. Bob Olson and Ron Condio recorded their sixth win by scoring decisions, Dean Foote made it five straight with a third period fall, and Bill Cummings received the nod for his fourth victory.

Other Dragon wrestlers who pinned their opponents Thursday were Jim Tinelli (4-1-1), Mickey Kondak (3-3) and Don Brian (4-2). Decisions went to Harry Brooker (5-1) and Cameron (5-1). Iver Stenberg and Dave Wilbur both dropped decisions.

Tonight on the Beaty mats the Dragons will engage Brockway.

STYLE SHOP CINCHES TITLE

By combining a tight man-to-man defense with a hot scoring performance, the Warren Observer defeated Youngsville, 62-49, and eliminated the out-of-towners chances for a crack at the YMCA-City League first half title. The action took place on the "Y" court Monday night, when the Style Shop also rolled 68-50 over the winless Rockets to clinch the crown with seven wins against two losses.

Dick Hartnett was the big scoring punch in the Observer lineup Monday, swishing the nets for 20 counters. A dozen points were contributed by Ricky Scalise and Ed Lindberg tallied 11. Dallas Haight and Lyons ripped off 14 and 12 respectively for Youngsville.

In the Style Shop's night cap victory it was Basil Kulka who stole the scoring honors, tallying 25. Obinger was high man for the Rockets with 23.

An earlier upset was staged by the Observer last Thursday, when the newspaper quintet tripped the Style Shop 60 to 58, behind the 23-point scoring of Ed Lindberg. Bob Reese and Hud Berdine netted 14 apiece for the Style Shop.

Other action Thursday pictured the Rockets dropping a 69-45 decision to Youngsville. The winners' big guns were Dallas Haight and Lyons with 25 and 19.

The first-half standings ended as follows: Style Shop, 7-2; Youngsville, 6-3; Observer, 5-4; and Rockets, 0-9.

There is no league action scheduled for tonight, but the second round will open Monday as the Observer and Rockets tangle at 7 o'clock and the Style Shop and Youngsville battle it out in the second game.

REMAIN UNDEFEATED

Beaty's high-flying cagers remained unbeaten in their fifth start Friday afternoon by conquering Frewsburg, 53-41, in Chadakoin League action on Beaty court.

The victory leaves the Blue and Gold in a two-way deadlock for top position in the circuit with Southwestern. Each has a 3-0 record. The tie will be broken this afternoon when Coach Bob Fey's floor-men invade the Southwestern gymnasium.

Bill Brumagin and Mark Peterson teamed up with 14 and 13 points respectively to pace the win Friday. The Feyman grabbed an early eight point edge in the first stanza and were in front 26-18 by the half. A 14-point scoring edge in the final half cinched the contest.

DRAGONS LOSE TO CORRY

In up and down fashion, Warren high cagemen lost to Corry, 56-53, Tuesday night after scoring the upset of the week with an 82-72 victory over Franklin. The results of the past week threw the Dragons into a two-way tie for third place in the Section Two race.

Playing at Corry, Coach Joe Massa's boys lagged too much at the start and found themselves in debt, 26-17, by the mid-way mark. Both quintets racked up 15 points in the third stanza. The Dragons then became better acquainted with the hoop and put forth a 21-point finish that came too late.

The top pointmen were Jeff Homan and John Powley, with 21 and 14. Latos and Turner shared the honors for Corry with 17 each.

Elsewhere in the league Tuesday night, Meadville pounded out a 90-53 count over Titusville, as Jenkins blazed for 40-points to lead the winners. On the rebound, Franklin outscored Oil City, 96-67.

With their win Friday, the Massmen broke a 12-game win streak for the Franklin Knights. In reverse of the Corry contest, Warren did not hesitate to pile up a 26-point advantage in the first two periods. However, the locals slacked off slightly in the last half with Franklin closing the gap by seven points.

Again it was Homan who was the star in the scoring column. He scored 33 points. Powley contributed 20 and Rickerson accounted for 15. Franklin's pacemaker was Snell with 29.

Oil City defeated Titusville, 91-81, and Meadville licked Corry, 80-55, in other Section Two action. Warren remains on the road for its next two loop encounters, playing at Oil City Friday night and Titusville next Tuesday.

Section Two standings: Meadville, 4-0; Franklin, 3-1; Warren, 2-2; Oil City, 2-2; Corry, 1-3; and Titusville, 0-4.

AREA CAGE SCORES

Area basketball action this past week saw Smethport swamping Wilcox, 96-45. Emporium downed Otto Twp. by a 53-33 margin. Ridgway lost a close one to Sykesville, 60-59, and Brookville rolled up a 45-34 score over St. Marys. Kane enjoyed an easy 47-25 decision at the cost of Johnsonburg, and also took Clearfield, 53-49. Bradford was a 69-63 victim of DuBois and Smethport drubbed Port Allegany, 77-53.

In the direction of Erie the scores went Academy 85, Millcreek 31; Tech 72, East 41; Prep 77, Millcreek 44; Academy 73, Vincent 52; Lawrence Park 72, Girard 53; Westleyville 61, Union City 38; Edinboro 69, Lawrence Park 49; North East 74, Union City 44.

The 15th straight win of the season was listed by Mercer in the form of a 63-31 triumph over Grove City. Other scores: Sharpshires 58, Lakeview 45; Farrell 52, Sharon 39; New Castle 63, Ellwood City 56; Aliquippa 68, Ambridge 55; Sharon 45, Ellwood City 32; Farrell 56, Aliquippa 55; Ambridge 48, Beaver Falls 46; Jamestown 78, Southwestern 49.

LEADS MOUNTAIN LEAGUE

With four wins and no losses, Sheffield high basketballers are resting comfortably on top of the Allegheny Mountain cage league. The Wolverines latest circuit achievement was an impressive 91-40 victory over Wilcox. In this contest Burlingame, Vashaw and Kolesar each hit double figures with 14, 13 and 12 respectively.

In the only other conference play last Friday the Ridgway Elkers trimmed Emporium, 82-49.

Coach Santo's squad will rest up this Friday night and then swing back into action Tuesday against Johnsonburg. The Johnnies are tied for second place with St. Marys in the league with a record of 2-1.

VALLEY LEAGUE PLAY

The entire Upper Allegheny Valley cage loop was in action Friday night. Northern Area scorched West Forest, 66-55, behind the keen eyes of Rowland and Orcutt. This duet was good for 47 of the victors' points. Over at East Forest the home team found a visiting Pleasantville aggregation too strong and lost by a 62-45 count. And playing at Tidioute, Youngsville's Eagles flew too low and were trapped with a 66-61 loss. Robertson led the Tidioute five with 20, but game honors were shared by the Eagles' Sherwood and Kulbacki for scoring 22 and 21 points respectively.

McCLINTOCK LEADS GRA-Y

By racking up a 37-21 win over Home Street Saturday, McClintock basketballers continued to hold their lead in Gra-Y court play on the YMCA court. The West Siders have a 5-1 record. Other leading contenders are Jefferson and East Street, each owning 4-1 records. Also on Saturday, Jefferson trimmed North Warren by a 15-7 margin and East Street nosed out Sugar Grove, 17-15.

In other biddy ball, St. Joe's dumped Lacy, 26-7, in independent play.

Action this Saturday features Jefferson and Sugar Grove at 12:00, St. Joe's and East in independent play at 12:45, and Lacy and McClintock at 1:30. Home Street is slated to play at North Warren at 12:45.

SHEFFIELD DEFEATS RIVAL

In the only non-league cage battle staged in the county this week, the howling Wolverines from Sheffield handed Youngsville a 69-51 loss. Earlier this season Sheffield clipped the Eagles' wings by a 70 to 53 score.

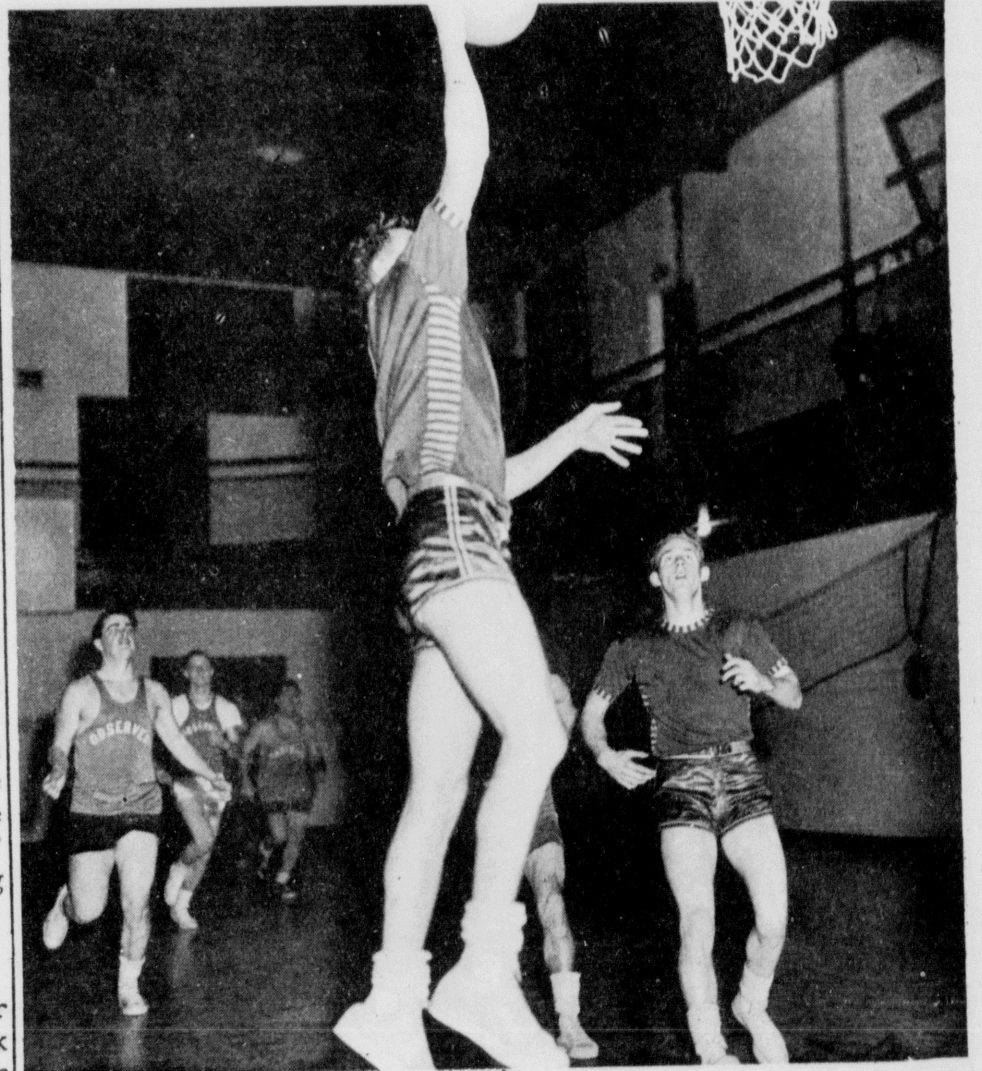

Don Labesky and Rod Vashaw found the basket for 22 and 16 points respectively in pacing the victors, while Sherwood and Kulbacki led the Youngsville five with 17 and 16.

Here's the schedule for the county aggregations for the coming week: Friday - Pleasantville at Youngsville, West Forest at Tidioute, and East Forest at Northern Area; Tuesday - Youngsville at Southwestern, Northern Area at Spartansburg; Tidioute is idle.

COMPETING IN CANADA

Slated to compete in the annual Canadian-American swim meet in Hamilton, Ont., Saturday, is Louise Culbertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Culbertson. Miss Culbertson is eligible to compete in the 100-yd. free style, 50-yd. backstroke and the 200-yd. relay. In the same meet last year she placed second in the 40-yd. free style class.

A HIGH SCORER for Youngsville, Dallas Haight lays-up a two-pointer in Monday's game with the Observer. Haight's teammate, Lyons, looks on. Moving in from the back court are Observer players Hartnett, Moore and Creola. The Observer won, 62-49.

HESCH STARS AS PRO

George Hesch, former Warren high cageman and Gannon College's outstanding athlete, was the versatile performer that led the Erie Pros to a 74-63 victory in the team's home opener Sunday. In the contest with the Buffalo Canisius All-Stars, Hesch dumped 25 points through the hoop.

It is possible arrangements will be made to bring this pro team to Warren.

HOW ABOUT US?

We note that the Pennsylvania Game Commission spent $271,600 in gas well royalties paid by those drawing from such wells on state lands in 1955. The money was used to purchase acreage for public hunting and other capital investments.

A total of 11,812 acres were bought for game lands, and 56 acres and 29 buildings were added to the Western Game Farm and the Southwest division headquarters. We see land added in Crawford, Venango, and fifteen other counties not in this area. Maybe we should be pushing a little harder.

This reminds us of the efforts now being made by the Warren Chamber of Commerce to have the state finish Chapman Park. For some reason, Warren county receives very small attention from the state when money comes out of the various funds. We are pleased to see the C. of C. taking some action.

Perhaps this is a part of politics. The county always is Republican. The GOP never worries about it, and sees no need to pay off. The Democrats don't expect to win, so place their money where it will do some good. That is the penalty paid for what amounts to a one-party system.

For this reason it is good to see non-political groups take action. The Chapman Park received much publicity when the dam was built and a bit of clearing done, but that was the end. There is much to do before it becomes a real play area.

It should have a good swimming beach, a camping area, or areas, trailer spot, and we would like to see a golf course built on the road leading to the area. It would make a well rounded play spot in the center of Warren county.

RIFLE CHAMPIONSHIP

One of the major features of the Pennsylvania Recreation and Sportsmen's Show, which will be held in the Farm Show Building, Harrisburg, March 20 to 24, will be the 1956 state indoor rifle championship competition. G. Paul Bomgardner, president of the Pennsylvania Rifle and Pistol association, will be the general chairman.

As a part of the rifle activities there will be demonstrations and instruction by the nation's leading riflemen and pistol shots. And the leading makers of firearms will display their equipment, some of which will be introduced for the first time.

A quarter of a million people will visit the exposition, which also will have archery events, fly casting, field dog trials, and similar outdoor specialties.

One reason the rifle competition and instructions by experts will receive so much publicity and promotion is our loss of supremacy in world competition. Russian, Swedish, Norwegian, and Finish marksmen shot the bulls-eye out from under us at the world championship in Venezuela last year. Officials hope the statewide competition will be a step toward America regaining its former top position in marksmanship.

This comes as no surprise to us. Millions of Americans are going through the stage of hoping they never see another rifle, and the millions who shoot at all are apt to confine their action to shotgun firing at rabbits and squirrels with small emphasis on accuracy.

In fact, we once said we were considering a bit of hunting with a .22 and our listeners thought we were joking. The sport of real shooting had passed them by. They wanted only to bring game home with the help of a spray gun.

Rabbits who have been foolish enough to move into town now are being taken for a ride into the country. The Game Commission's protectors, deputies, and other authorized persons are live-trapping the urban rabbit from private property, cemeteries, parks, and other places where they do no good. They then are dropped on hunting lands where they can serve as targets next fall, and meanwhile raise a family or two.

Reports on the kill of the snowshoe rabbits during the one-week season this month reveal 600 less killed than last year. The big fellow does not have the big families enjoyed by his small cousin and he likes heavy cover, which disappears in the larger woodlands.

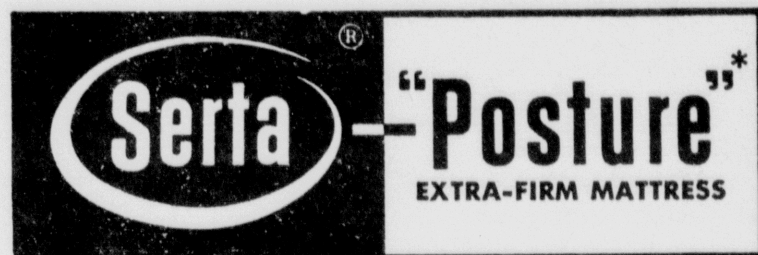

Hunters brought in about 2,100 of them. Present timbering operations in portions of the northern counties should provide ground cover that may encourage the varying hare's population.

PRESSING PAYS

If you want to beat a Warren basketball team, press it. This is especially true of the current model. With a 26-point spread against Franklin it almost blew it because the visitors climbed all over them in the second half.

If Warren would play the aggressive ball it displayed the first half, and move in for that ball as it did in those periods, there is no team in Section 2 that would have a chance.

YOUNGSHVILLE PICTURED

ANOTHER PICTURE

The father of a Warren man is seen in the January 16 issue of Sports Illustrated, on Page 29. In the story about Bob Cousy, the Boston dervish, there are pictures of past greats in the game, including the original basketball team and its inventor, Dr. Naismith. In the picture is L. W. Archibald who played on the first team at Springfield College. His son is Gerry Archibald, owner of the fox and mink ranch on Quaker rd.

SOUNDS PROMISING

On July 13, The Bat will fly at Chautauqua. That is the opening date of the opera season and Die Fledermaus by Johann Strauss, will be the opener. The opera company this year will be directed by Alfredo Valenti, of New York City, with Edward Murphy, of St. Louis, and Alberto Bimboni, of New York, as conductors.

Other operas for this season will be Verdi's Rigoletto, Così Fan Tutte (in observance of 200th anniversary of Mozart's birth), Leoncavallo's Pagliacci, Mascagni's Cavalleria, de Koven's Robin Hood, and in conclusion will be seen The Barber of Seville.

And equally as good news to many will be the news that Norton Memorial Hall where the plays and operas are presented is to be air conditioned this year.

MORE MUSIC

Barbershop singing is catching on at Chautauqua. The second annual program to be presented by the Seneca Land District will be heard July 7. And there will be a Barber Shop Harmony Workshop that afternoon, open to all who are interested in the development of this kind of singing. Patrick McPhillips, of Williamsville, is in charge.

SHAKESPEAREAN FESTIVAL

The fourth annual season of the Canadian Stratford Shakespearean Festival will open June 18, and will last nine weeks. The Merry Wives of Windsor and Henry V will be the two plays which will alternate. Many area people visit Stratford, Ontario, for these plays which have definitely proved that people will attend this type of drama when it is well done.

Christopher Plummer, now playing the lead role in the Broadway production of The Lark, will have a leave of absence to do the title role in Henry V. Douglas Campbell, British actor now touring Canada with the Canadian Players, will play Falstaff in The Merry Wives of Windsor. The merry wives will be Pauline Jameson, of the Old Vic, London, and Helen Burns, seen with the Festival company last year.

ADULT EDUCATION

Adults who want college credits and advanced education in many lines, may find what they desire in the night classes which will be started in February by the Jamestown Community College. Registration will take place between 7 and 9, the evenings of February 2 and 6, at the general office, Foote ave. and Allen st.

The subjects range from advertising on radio and TV to Time and Motion Study. Classes meet at 7 one evening each week, except the one which prepares insurance agents to pass their examinations. This meets twice a week for 37 sessions, and costs $100.

The rest of the classes cost $12 to $18 and run 15 weeks. They include: American Literature, Applied Psychology, Comparative Economic Systems, Economics and Religion, Figure Drawing, History of Art, Philosophy, Physiology and Anatomy of Man, Shakespeare, and Theatre Appreciation.

Courses of special interest to those in business and commercial activities include: Advertising on Radio and TV, Radio Broadcasting Technique, Business English, Business Law, Insurance Course Preparing for Agents' and Brokers' State Examinations, Introductory

AND AT PENN STATE

Special for farmers we find a series of short courses scheduled at Penn State University. They are scheduled as follows: Grassland, March 12 to 16; Lumber Grading, March 12 to 16; Dairy Cattle Herdsmen, March 26 to 30; Sheep breeding, feeding, and management, February 27 to 29; Beef Cattle, March 6 to 8.

FOR PROGRAM CHAIRMEN

If you are a program chairman looking for something different, the District Forester, Charles S. Merroth, has four films which have been shown to 2,675 school pupils, and are available for other schools or groups. They are: "Then It Happened", "More Than Timber in Trees", "Trees for Tomorrow", and "Smokey Bear".

BIG MUSIC NIGHT

A long list of leading opera and concert artists will be heard on Producers' Showcase, Monday evening. NBC will present Marian Anderson, Arthur Rubenstein, Renata Tebaldi, Jan Peerce, Roberta Peters, Isaac Stern, Zinka Milanov, Gregor Piatigorsky, Leonard Warren, Jussi Bjoerling, and Blanche Thebom. The narrator will be Charles Laughton.

ALL UHF

Every tv station will be ultra high frequency by 1964 if a long range transition proposed by many in the industry succeeds. Present very high frequency stations would have first choice on new channels, and present owners of vhtv sets would be given time to get their use out of them. Sen. John W. Bricker, former chairman of the Senate Commerce committee, is considering a proposal for such a plan.

BLAMES $64,000 QUESTION

Hazel Bishop Inc. is blaming the $64,000 question program for nearly a half million dollar loss in its last fiscal year. The $64,000 program is sponsored by Revlon, which had a good year. Hazel Bishop spent $1.6 million on its NBC-TV spectacular without success. But company officials claim they had a good fourth quarter and expect their cosmetics to make profits from here in.

KUDOS TO PLAYERS

A bow is due the Warren Players for the courage shown in attempting a Shakespearean production. None of those involved presumes to be either Shakespearean directors or players, but they hope to gain much from the experience and to bring a bit of the classics to Warren.

We believe that those taking part will learn much from this experience and will gain a new respect for the bard. This writer urges those who attend to overlook small faults, and to remember that these are amateurs taking a major step.

This corner will not be surprised to see a very creditable job done, and we are offering a big hand to Othello before the curtain man gives the drapes their first rustle.

BOWLING

WOMEN'S TOURNAMENT

The annual bowling tournament of the Warren Women's Bowling Association will be held this week end on the Penn alleys. The five-man will be shot Saturday afternoon, and the doubles and singles will be rolled on Sunday.

SANCTIONED JR. LEAGUE

Forty young men have formed a junior bowling league, sanctioned by the American Junior Bowling Congress, and will start this week at the Penn. The first matches will be held at 10:30 Saturday morning, with eight teams competing.

Sara Klawson, certified bowling instructor for junior bowling leagues, helped organize and sanction the group, which will be eligible to compete in national telegraphic tournaments and other sanctioned events.

OUTSIDE CHALLENGERS

The TV tournament in Erie has run out of classic keggers from that city and is bringing in challengers from surrounding communities to pit against Foo Potter. Meadville and Girard keggers are the first scheduled. It is possible that a Warren spiller will be given a chance.

If so, it probably will be Pete Juliano who is sporting close to 200 in three leagues. Pete will hit the tournament trail this spring, taking in the ABC, the masters, and the national doubles. The doubles is being held in Pittsburgh, April 7 and 8.

BIG NAMES COMING

A long line of big name keggers from the major city classic leagues will perform at the Ten Pin Lanes in Jamestown this spring. An open sweeps is set for those alleys and the big boys will include it in their trip through to the ABC in Rochester.

Already entered are several prominent names, including Connie Schwoegler, twice national match champion. Kristof, Thaden, and others also are signed. They will roll April 6.

LOCALLY

The Pappalardo family topped the field this week. Meyer nearly got a 700 when he rolled 246 and 689 in the Industrial. Jaye led the ladies with 212 and 542 in the Ladies City.

Behind Meyer in the Industrial were Chuck Stephens with 611 and Pete Juliano with 610. Louie Barone hit 619 in the American K of C. Glenn Grosch had 619 and Slug Sterling, 604, in the City, where Lou Chementi had a 248 game. Warren County Dairy tied Building Block Works for high game with 1030.

Dr. Jim Giunta fired 611 in the Commercial, Harry Gnage hit 599 in the Ex-Servicemen's, Meyer Pappalardo led the National K of C

NEW VICE PRESIDENT of the Colonial Iron Works Co., of Cleveland, is W. J. Hegerty, former Warren resident who served his apprenticeship as a draftsman at the Warren plant of Struthers-Wells Corp. Before joining Colonial, Mr. Hegerty was associated with Edge Moor Iron Works, Edge Moor, Del., and Alloy Fabricators, Inc., Perth Amboy, N. J.

For the past three years he has been sales manager of the Colonial Co., and has been on the board of directors. His new job will be to expand sales activities of the company.

J. B. LEIDIG

Warren's beloved and respected football coach for 40 years, J. B. Leidig, has announced his retirement from the Warren Borough school system.

Mr. Leidig, who spent as much, if not more, of his time building characters as he did football teams, was a member of the Warren high school faculty for 43 1/2 years. Upon completion of his college career at Dickinson in 1912, Mr. Leidig became engaged as a football coach in Warren and continued in that role until 1951. During that period Mr. Leidig enjoyed coaching outstanding elevens, as did he during the time he was basketball mentor from 1915 to 1930.

An outstanding coach, Mr. Leidig was also a player in his own rights at Dickinson.

Upon leaving Warren high school at the end of this week, Mr. Leidig will become affiliated with the Betts Machine Co. of Warren.

Your Forest Ranger

By Larry Stotz

The 1955 Yearbook of Agriculture entitled, "WATER", devotes 752 pages to this important subject, and this handsome volume is an excellent reference book and a worthy addition to any home library shelf.

Although primarily devoted to the farmer's and rancher's water problems it also has many chapters of interest to city and urban dwellers, sportsmen, industrialists, foresters and gardeners.

Each of the 95 chapters is written in non-technical style by a specialist in his particular field. Since each one of us uses vast quantities of water, either directly or indirectly, in his daily living at least some portion of this informative book will prove of value to everyone.

The 95 chapters are arranged under the following main headings: Our Need For Water; Where We Get Our Water; Water and Our Soil; Caring for Our Watersheds; Water and Our Forests; Water for Irrigation; Water and Our Crops; Our Range and Pasture; Gardens, Turf and Orchards; Drainage of Fields; Water and Our Wildlife; Pure Water for Farms and Cities; and A Look to the Future.

The information this Yearbook contains about water is not just for today. All things, including weather and rainfall change fast, and our memories are short. When it rains, we forget about the dust bowl; when it is dry, we forget about the floods.

So accustomed are we to filling all of our water needs by simply turning on the faucets in our homes that it is difficult to realize the plight millions of people in Asia Minor, India, Africa and South America face in just satisfying their minimum needs of 3 to 5 gallons per person a day.

This book on water reminds us that; "In Madagascar, women carry water home in jars on their heads across miles of hot sands. In one rural community in southeastern Asia the women have to walk 9 miles to the nearest water supply, and bring the water back in buckets. Since one wife can make only one trip a day with her bucket, and this is not enough for the needs of the family, men find it necessary to have several wives just in order to keep the household supplied with water."

But scarcity of water, in many parts of the world, is often less a problem than too much water in the form of floods. Although few of us in this area have experienced the ravages of floods all of us are becoming increasingly aware of the flood menace in the United States, from New England to California, as we read about the terrible destruction of life and property that occurred within the past year in both New England and Northern California. The new Yearbook of Agriculture has much to say about floods, and a program to alleviate them.

Maps, drawings and photographs in profusion add to the interest of the text in this Yearbook devoted to "WATER".

Anyone interested in this vital resource, water, can purchase the Yearbook of Agriculture, 1955, by writing to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington 25, D. C.

Things to Come

HAPPY BIRTHDAY . . . . . to the Spot! The fifth birthday anniversary of the Warren Youth Canteen will be observed at a dance on Saturday, January 28, from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m. Admission will be 50 cents per person and George Johnson's band will provide the music for dancing.

On the committee for the dance are the following: door, Henry Lanman, Shirley Olson; refreshments, Sandy Burke, Jean Lyke; chaperones, Dorothy Mathyer; and publicity, Beth Proukou.

This will really be a big affair, and it is hoped that everyone will be there to make it a huge success!

THE WINTER CONCERT . . . . . of the a cappella choir of Warren high school will be held at Beaty auditorium on Monday, January 30, under the direction of Carroll Fowler. Many special numbers are to be included in the program. Solos will be sung by David Greenlund and Anne Putnam, and the Khord Krackers, a quartette consisting of Dave Greenlund, Stephen Coe, Pete Sanden, and Fred Danielson. Tickets are 50 cents and may be purchased from any choir member.

CURTAIN TIME . . . . . is 8:30 p. m. on Thursday and Friday, January 26 and 27, at the Woman's Club auditorium when the Warren Players Club will present "Othello". The Players Club is extending an invitation to all members to enjoy an evening of excellent entertainment.

NOW IS THE TIME . . . . . to be looking over old pictures, taking new ones, and in general getting your slides ready to enter in the Blue Triangle Slide Festival which will be held at the YWCA Activities building on Monday, February 13, at 7:30 p. m. Everett Borg, Everett Stoke, and D. F. Bairstow, all well known local photographers, will act as judges. Cash prizes will be awarded. Tickets may be purchased at the "Y" or from any club member.

CAPTAIN RICHARD S. McCUTCHEON . . . . . winner of the $64,000 Question, T.V. quiz program, will be the guest at the Ladies Night of the Conewango Club on Saturday, April 7. Captain McCutcheon's category, as every housewife knows, was cooking. While in Warren, he will be the house guest of Mrs. Helen Pendleton Rockwell.

THE W.S.C.S. . . . . of the First Methodist church will meet on Thursday, January 26, at 8 p. m. in the Dunham Parlors. Mrs. A. L. Knopf, program chairman, will present a panel review of the book, "To Combine Our Efforts For Lasting Peace".

The executive board will meet at 7 p. m. prior to the regular meeting.

A VALENTINE DANCE . . . . . will be sponsored by the Starbrick Volunteer Fire Department at the Ben White Social Center in Starbrick on February 11, from 9 until 7. Gerry McCune's orchestra will provide music for round, square, and polka dancing. Tickets may be purchased at Albaugh's Esso Station in Starbrick, Beckley's record department in Warren, or from any member of the committee.

SHADES OF TREASURE ISLAND! . . . . . Cub Pack 47 will be on deck Thursday, January 26, at 7:30 p. m., at the Home Street school. The theme will be "Pirates", so-o-o, be prepared!

BOY SCOUT RECOGNITION DINNER . . . . . The annual Recognition Dinner of the Chief Cornplanter Council will be held on Saturday, January 28, at 6:30 p. m. in Beaty cafeteria. An especially good turnout of Scouters and their wives is expected, since 1956 is the 40th anniversary of the founding of the Council. Guest speaker will be Clarence F. Urff, Region III Scout executive, of Philadelphia.

The dinner will honor 5 Scouts who have reached the rank of Eagle Scout, and men who have earned their Leaders Keys and Scouter's Awards.

COMMUNITY CHAIRMEN . . . . . and Board Members of Chief Cornplanter Council of Boy Scouts will meet at the United Refining Company office at 7:30 p. m., on Monday, January 30, for the purpose of distributing supplies and furnishing instructions. Scout Executive Elmer Morgan will be the speaker.

THE WARREN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE . . . . . after a lapse of 15 years, will hold a membership dinner and program on Wednesday, February 1, at 6:30 p. m., in Beaty cafeteria. Included in the program will be an address by James E. Gheen, of New York City, public relations counsellor and humorist. Also the officers of the Chamber for 1956 will be installed. Burgess William Rice will be the Toastmaster. An added attraction will be the Warren Boy Choir under the direction of Byron Swanson.

MARCHING MOTHERS . . . . . will help the March of Dimes campaign along on Tuesday, January 31. The Mothers on the March night, sponsored by the Zonta Club, will officially begin at 7 p. m. with headquarters at the Municipal building. Mrs. Lena Schaeffer will be in charge there.

THE ANNUAL DINNER MEETING . . . . . for the Warren-Forest Council Girl Scouts will be held at 6:15 p. m., on Tuesday, January 31, at the Pleasant Fire Hall. Mrs. O'Neil Johnson, active volunteer worker of Region 3, Washington, D. C., and the Montgomery Council, will be guest speaker. She is a member of the national personnel committee, trainer of board members, and popular speaker.

BE MY VALENTINE? . . . . . The boys will ask the girls to the Valentine dance sponsored by freshmen Y-Teens on Saturday, February 11. This is a sock-hop and shoes must be deposited at the door. There will be a door prize, refreshments, and a band.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB . . . . . meeting on Monday, January 30, will be under the direction of the Drama Department. Stanley A. Davis, of Jamestown, N. Y., will speak on "The Use of Recorded Music in the Theater." He is experienced in the fields of music, dancing, and acting, and is well suited to speak on this subject. Mrs. W. C. Fuellhart will be the hostess for the tea.

THE ANNUAL MEETING . . . . . and parish tureen dinner of St. Francis of Assisi Episcopal church in Youngsville will be held in the parish hall at 6 p. m. on Monday, January 30.

A CO-ED CRAFT CLASS . . . . . sponsored jointly by the YWCA and YMCA is scheduled to begin today (Thursday) at 3:15 p. m. in the craft room at the YMCA. The class will be held on eight consecutive Thursdays and is open to all boys and girls ages 11, 12, and 13. They must be either a Y-Teen or a member of the YMCA.

The registration fee is $3. Some of the things which may be made include baskets, earrings, cuff links, flower pot holders, wallets, etc.

IF YOU LIKE BRIDGE . . . . . now is your chance to play for fun. Each Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m. a social bridge session is held at the YWCA in the Activities building. This is open to anyone.

LEARN A LITTLE MORE . . . . . about your phase in Home Economics. Geraldine Johnston, extension home economist, announces that there will be a Leaders' Training meeting on laundering on Thursday, February 2, from 10 a. m., to 3 p. m., at the Penn-Elec kitchen on Eddy st. Miss Sanna Black, home management specialist from Penn State university, will conduct the meeting and give you all the necessary information.

CHIEF CORNPLANTER POST 135 . . . . . of the American Legion, announced at the Monday, January 23 business meeting that tickets are now on sale for the Washington's Birthday dinner on February 22. On this occasion the Legion Dept. Commander will visit Warren, and the dinner will be in his honor. Preceding the business meeting, the Post held its annual "Ox-Roast" dinner.

There were approximately 150 Legionnaires present.

REBOUND IS TAKEN by Nelson as Warren out-hustles the Franklin team in the first half. The favored Franklin boys were defeated, 82 to 71. Waiting at the left is Rickerson, Harrington, 30, is at the right, and Jeff Homan waits at the right for the pass. Hidden back of Homan is Powley.

FOOTBALL GREAT. Here comes Bill McCullough, Franklin's big man on the gridiron. However, against Warren on the basketball court, Friday, he didn't go far, getting four baskets and five fouls. In this case, Jeff Homan is seeing to it that he goes nowhere.

ADDING 'EM UP is Jeff Homan, against Franklin. Jeff was good for here getting one from the foul line 33 points.

SKATES NEEDED

If you have a pair of ice skates you are not using, drop them off at the Hoffman Children's Home, 444 Conewango ave. They now have about one pair for every five who want to use that new ice rink on Beaty field. There is no reason why these young people should be denied the healthy pleasure now available within two blocks of their home.

A NEW CO-ED CRAFT class is being formed under the joint sponsorship of the YMCA and YWCA. The instructors for the course will be (l. to r.) Bill Cornwall, Pat Ross, Sally Daley, Jeff Riedel, boys' work secretary, and Dorothy Brenner, Y-Teen secretary. These classes for juniors are scheduled to start February 2 and will be conducted in the YM craft room.
